

ED 385 : Creating and Managing Classroom Environments

This course will explore research, theory, and best practices related to effective classroom management. Topics will include establishing an environment for learning, organizing and managing instruction, coping with the challenges, and developing relationships with students, staff, and parents. This course includes an off-campus field experience in a classroom for 36-50 clock hours.

Credits 3.0

Prerequisites

Admission to the Program