

PS 235 : Psychology through Films

Normal and psychopathological individuals as depicted in commercially produced films. An orientation toward an understanding of the behaviors and psychological dynamics that differentiate the normal from the psychopathological individual.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisite Courses

PS 101: Introduction to Psychology