

PS 276 : Lifespan Development

An interdisciplinary approach to the study of development across all stages of the lifespan with emphasis on genetic and environmental influences; includes prenatal development through death. (Not open to students who have taken PS 275.)

Credits 4.0

Prerequisite Courses

PS 101: Introduction to Psychology