

TH 250 : Shakespeare on Stage and Screen

A study of some of Shakespeare's greatest hits and how these plays have been transformed into movies, from filmed stage productions to contemporary riffs on the characters and storylines. The course will also include analysis of relevant cultural artifacts connected to the play's content as well as filmic techniques and principles of adaptation.

Credits 4.0

Semester Offered

Offered alternate springs