

BI 206 : Vertebrate Zoology

A detailed study of the vertebrates (especially those in the Midwest) emphasizing the diversity, identification, comparative physiology and anatomy, ecology, and human impact on their populations. One 2-hour laboratory per week.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisite Courses

BI 110: Biological Investigation

Semester Offered

Offered alternate fall semesters