

BI 215 : Medical Terminology

An introduction to medical terminology commonly used in a wide variety of health professions. Special emphasis is placed on learning the prefixes, suffixes, and combining forms used to generate informative terms that are commonly encountered in health professions or anatomy and physiology.

Credits 2.0

Prerequisites

BI 107, BI 110 or consent of the instructor

Semester Offered

Offered every semester