

MG 362 : Rewarding Employees

Overview of the theoretical frameworks and practices pertaining to rewarding human resources in organizations. The course will introduce students to the Total Rewards approach and aid in the understanding of tangible and intangible aspects of compensation.

Credits 4.0