

CS 280 : Computer Organization and Architecture

Introduction to computer systems, organization, and architecture. Topics include representation of data, instructions sets, addressing modes, digital logic, logic circuits, logic devices, memory, register transfer, and alternative architectures.

Credits 4.0

Prerequisite Courses

CS 170: Introduction to Data Structures

Semester Offered

Offered spring semesters